YOU'RE A DAD

7 storylines about being a Dad

“I’m proud to be a Dad. I’ve found out that us, as fathers, we can make choices and we can make changes. To me, this book is all about hearing and feeling the happiness and hurt and stories from other Aboriginal and Torres Strait fathers. Just to know that our brothers are all feeling the same in a lot of ways. It’s also about acknowledging us as fathers and the important role that we do play in our children’s lives. The final message is the simple thing - just talk with your kids and talk with other blokes about your kids.”

Craig Hammond - an Aboriginal Dad

“Our kids need us Dads more than ever, to be a role model, to be a friend, to be a listener, to be a loan office, to be lots of other things, but most of all it’s just to be there when they need us.”

Steve Larkins - SNAICC Chairperson

THE JOURNEY

I had to catch two buses, broken leg and all, to get here for my kids

When I seen him born I just cried

BE THERE

MAKE TIME TO BE WITH YOUR KIDS, DO THINGS TOGETHER, LOVE, HOLD, PROVIDE FOR AND SUPPORT THEM, HAVE FUN, SHOW THEM YOUR FEELINGS – YOUR CHILDREN LOVE YOU FOR WHO YOU ARE, SO JUST LOVE THEM FOR WHO THEY ARE, NO MATTER WHAT THEY DO

While I'm locked up I can be there for them by phone, letters, sending them things I've made

I pay for all the flights to see my boy, no matter the cost

Just mucking around together a lot

It's hard but I need to work with the kids' Mum – to be there for them when I am needed

I pick up my little one from school every day, because my woman does afternoon shift

I always keep
them in my heart

I haven't seen my daughter for over 12 years and it'll be hard to even find where she is, but I'll try

Me and my kids have a special bond

I like being involved with my kids' school activities

CONNECT

BE INVOLVED FROM THE START AND ALL THE WAY THROUGH – MISTAKES MAY HAPPEN BUT KEEP IN TOUCH WITH THE KIDS, FAMILY AND COMMUNITY AND LET YOUR KIDS KNOW YOU ARE THERE FOR THEM

He lives with his Mum, so I call him every week and when he visits we always see family

If I knew who my Dad is and where he is, I'd feel better

I like my kids to know where I'm from and who's their mob

When I'm on the road I ring up the kids from the roadhouse to see how they are going

I love him even more because he always tells me the bad things as well as the good

I teach my boys all the Blackfella dances

I feel good about who I am and where I am from and I want my kids to feel the same

I would change nothing – I'm proud of what I've done and what they have got out of life, I'm proud I had them

BE PROUD

RESPECT AND BE PROUD OF YOURSELF, YOUR CULTURE, YOUR KIDS, AND LET YOUR KIDS BE PROUD OF YOU

You feel proud when they win races, when their school marks pick up, when they do something nice, look nice, are well mannered or share things with others

Sometimes when the kids get older you're just not proud of some things they do, but you still love them

Being a Dad makes me proud and seeing my kids with all their own kids

I tell them how much I love them

I need to listen to my girls and not do all the talking

I didn't talk to my own kids a lot, because I was working but now I can talk with my grandchildren

TALK

I always ask how his day was or what he has planned for the weekend

We talk to them and show them different things until they find something they want to do- it takes time

TALK WITH AND LISTEN TO YOUR KIDS – TALK UP FOR YOUR KIDS AND TALK WITH OTHER DADS ABOUT BEING A DAD

Bro, I gave up buying tobacco so I had the money to ring my kids while I'm on the inside

Talking to other fathers around the community would've helped

I tell my kids stories about how I grew up on the mission

When I spend timeout bush with my son – all we do is talk

I can't wait for my grand-daughter to wake up in the morning

When your baby is born you feel on top of the world – you're a Dad!

I was tossing up about going to the knockout or staying at home for the birth of my child – I made the right choice for my family

FEEL GOOD

THERE MAY BE HARD TIMES TO GET THROUGH BUT ENJOY YOUR KIDS AND ENJOY BEING A DAD

Do things with the kids they like doing

Watch them play football

I ring him up whenever I feel down because he lives away from me – just hearing him cheers me up

When my girls throw themselves into my arms

Seeing my kids growing into what they are today

Teach them to stick together and keep each other safe from when they are young

Make sure you know where they are, that they're safe, healthy, fed – things like that

Just how that kid turns out depends on how you teach and work with them

Work with your kids from an early age and teach them about rules – things like look for cars before you chase a ball, don't swim here – be firm

PROTECT

MAKE GOOD DECISIONS FOR AND WITH YOUR KIDS, THINK ABOUT HOW YOU TALK, GUIDE AND PROTECT YOUR CHILDREN TO KEEP THEM HAPPY, SAFE AND PROUD

They know what I expect from them even when I am not there and I let them know when I am not happy and why

Make the time to talk about the birds and the bees and about life

We didn't talk for a few years, I miss those years

I lost my way for a bit, but got back in touch

When I see a picture of my children and grandchildren, I can see me and my ancestors in them

My children are having children. I'm helping him with his children now

THINK ABOUT WHAT YOU HAVE LEARNT IN YOUR OWN LIFE JOURNEY AND TEACH YOUR OWN KIDS AND GRANDCHILDREN

Having a kid has made me grow up a bit more

I learnt about being a father from my own Dad

I bathed them, took them to work with me, I done everything you can name with them, even took them to training with me

I want to share my life story with family so they don't make the mistakes I did

We were both young, just freaking out and didn't know what to do but we stayed together and now we've got another two

Share your stories

The best thing for Dads who want some support or advice is to talk to other Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander men.

There are many Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander men's groups meeting Australia-wide who are talking together about how to look after themselves and their kids and renew their pride and strength.

Ring your local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander child, family and health services to find out what supports and men's groups are in your area.
