

Marumali

Program

Based on the unique, original and unparalleled Marumali Journey of Healing Model

Marumali Program (4 days) for Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander Service Providers

16th-19th March 2015, MELBOURNE, Victoria

The five-day workshop is accredited training and is based on a unique, original and unparalleled model of healing developed by an Aboriginal survivor of removal policies. It aims to empower Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander practitioners in the provision of safe, appropriate and effective support to survivors of forcible removal policies (Stolen Generations). Participants are equipped with strategies to deal with issues of trauma associated with removal practices in a variety of settings and strategies which respect the rights of survivors to control the pace, direction and outcome of their own healing journey.

Registration Fee: $2250 (includes lunch, morning & afternoon tea)

Marumali Program (2 days) for non-Aboriginal Service Providers

12th-13th March 2015, MELBOURNE, Victoria

This two-day program looks at some of the unique social and emotional issues faced by survivors of removal policies, and equips participants with some of the skills required to respond appropriately if support is required. It offers insight into the early stages of the healing journey and the risks associated with these stages and appropriate supports required.

Registration Fee: $ 1350 (includes lunch, morning & afternoon tea)
